

Heliski BC RIPPIN AT RIPLEY

Discover the largest heliski area of the planet with over 9 500km<sup>2</sup>. An average of 25 meters of snowfall during the winter allows incredible heliski runs in the Skeena and coast mountains of northern BC and dry deep powder. Spend the heliski week of a lifetime, especially designed for experts.

RIPPIN AT RIPLEY

This tour is reserved for small groups and expert skiers only. Ripley Creek has fast become known for terrain that makes the heart thump. Steep tree runs that will leave the knees burning and glacial terrain so huge, you'll wonder what planet you are on. We offer a limited number of weeks with just 2 groups of 5 guests.

LOCATION

Ripley Creek Inn, Stewart, BC is located 200 miles (310km) Northwest of Terrace, British Columbia. The small town of Stewart is situated at the end of the Portland Canal, opposite Hyder, Alaska. This operation focuses exclusively on the southern part of our tenure.

ACCOMMODATION

The inn is home to both guests and staff with meals served just across the street at the Bitter Creek Café. All rooms have en-suite bathrooms, queen size beds with down duvets, telephones and TVs. The Bitter Creek Café has an historic feel with a bistro style menu. You're assured of some fine eclectic cuisine and for those who are keen, some sensational seafood.

If the conditions are unfavourable for flying, there are many entertaining activities in Stewart. Go fishing on the Portland Canal, visit historic museums for a history lesson or check-out any or all of the three local watering holes for a chance to meet some of the locals that call Stewart, BC their home.
